

Cryptoasset Return

This form is for taxpayers (individuals, individuals in business, corporations and trusts; hereinafter the "taxpayer") that, in a taxation year or fiscal period, own, acquire, dispose of (sell, transfer, trade, donate, etc.) or use cryptoassets. A "cryptoasset" is property that is a digital representation of value and that only exists at a digital address of a publicly distributed ledger.

If the taxpayer owns, acquires, disposes of or uses more than one type or cryptoasset, you must consider each type as a separate asset and valueate it separately. For examples of cryptoassets, see page 6.

Before completing this form, the taxpayer must have answered Yes to the question on cryptoassets on one of the following lines of their income tax return for the taxation year or fiscal period (hereinafter the "year or period"):

- line 24 of the personal income tax return (TP-1-V) (individuals and individuals in business);
- line 19b of the Déclaration de revenus des sociétés (CO-17) (corporations);
- line 31 of the Trust Income Tax Return (TP-646-V) (trusts).

Include this form with the taxpayer's income tax return.

	The taxpayer realized a capital gain (or loss) on cryptoassets after June 24, 2024 .	1, 2, 3, 4.2 and 7
	The taxpayer earned business income (or sustained a business loss) from cryptoassets.	1, 2, 3, 5 and 7
	The taxpayer earned rental income (or sustained a rental loss) from cryptoassets.	1, 2, 3, 6.1 and 7
	The taxpayer received interest income from cryptoassets.	1, 2, 3, 6.2 and 7

IMPORTANT

If the taxpayer made more than one transaction, include a detailed list of the transactions for each type of cryptoasset. The list must give the information about the taxpayer shown in Part 1. Enter the result of the calculations on the corresponding line in Part 4, 5 or 6.

If the taxpayer is reporting more than four types of cryptoassets, complete Part 4, 5 or 6 on another copy of this form and include it.

The use of cryptoassets can have tax consequences if, for example:

- They are used to acquire goods and services.
- They are converted into currency.
- They are traded for another type of cryptoasset.
- They are sold or donated.
- They are used for loans or to lease property.

There can also be tax consequences if the taxpayer mines cryptoassets and receives a reward for their services.

Go to revenuquebec.ca for more information about the tax consequences of using cryptoassets, how the GST/HST and QST apply, recordkeeping and supporting documents, and correctly reporting cryptoasset income and gains (or losses).

For an individual or individual in business, carry the result on line 98 (whether positive or negative) to line 121 of Schedule G.

For a corporation, carry the result on line 98 (whether positive or negative) to schedule CO-17S.232, État de l'aliénation d'immobilisations. Next, carry the taxable capital gain in the schedule to line 40 of form CO-17.A.1, Revenu net fiscal.

For a trust, carry the result on line 98 (whether positive or negative) to line 1217 of Schedule A (personal trust), line 2217 of Schedule A.1 (trust other than a personal trust) or line 19 of form TP-653-V, Deemed Sale Applicable to Certain Trusts (certain other trusts).

3. See note 1.

4. See note 2.

5 Business income (or losses) from cryptoassets

Complete this part if the taxpayer operated a business and earned business income (or experienced losses) from cryptoassets.

For an individual in business or a trust, enclose form TP-80-V, Business or Professional Income and Expenses, or the financial statements. If the taxpayer operated several businesses, enclose form TP-80-V or the financial statements for each business.

Type of cryptoasset		Gross income		Net income (or net losses)

102		+ 103		+ 104
105		+ 106		+ 107
108		+ 109		+ 110
Add lines 100, 103, 106 and 109.		Gross income = 111
Add lines 101, 104, 107 and 110.		Net income (or net losses) = 112

For an individual in business, carry the results on lines 111 and 112 to lines 16.1 and 26.1, respectively, of Schedule L.

For a trust, carry the results on lines 111 and 112 to lines 55a and 55, respectively, of form TP-646-V.

For a corporation, you do not have to carry the results on lines 111 and 112 to form CO-17 or any related forms. However, you must include them in the corporation's net income (or net losses).

6 Property income (or losses) from cryptoassets

6.1 Rental income (or losses) from cryptoassets

Complete this section if the taxpayer earned rental income from cryptoassets. Note that net income (or net losses) is gross rental income minus the expenses incurred to earn that income.

Type of cryptoasset		Gross income		Net income (or net losses)
113		114		115
116		+ 117		+ 118
119		+ 120		+ 121

Add lines 114, 117, 120 and 123.		Gross income = 125
Add lines 115, 118, 121 and 124.		Net income (or net losses) = 126

For an individual or an individual in business, carry the results on lines 125 and 126 to lines 168 and 136, respectively, of the personal income tax return (TP-1-V).

For a trust, carry the results on lines 125 and 126 to lines 58a and 58, respectively, of form TP-646-V.

For a corporation, you do not have to carry the results on lines 125 and 126 to form CO-17 or any related forms. However, you must include them in the corporation's net income (or net losses).

6.2 Interest income from cryptoassets

Complete this section if the taxpayer received interest income from cryptoassets.

Type of cryptoasset			Interest income
127			128
129		+	130
131		+	132
133		+	134
Add lines 128, 130, 132 and 134.			Interest income =	135

For an individual or an individual in business, carry the result on line 135 to line 130 of the personal income tax return (TP-1-V).

For a trust, carry the result on line 135 to line 61 of form TP-646-V and enter code 07 on line 61a.

For a corporation, you do not have to carry the result on line 135 to form CO-17 or any related forms. However, you must include the result in the corporation's net income (or net losses).

Information

Examples of cryptoassets

Cryptoasset	Description
Cryptocurrency	A cryptoasset used as a medium of exchange to buy products or services, generally independent of the banking system. Some cryptocurrencies can be converted into government-issued currency. Cryptocurrency and cryptocurrency transactions use blockchain technology.
Security tokens	These cryptoassets may derive their value from an underlying traditional stock/bond or some other blockchain-based investment opportunity.
Non-fungible tokens (NFTs)	NFTs are generally associated with digital art, but they have numerous other uses such as representing items in blockchain-based games and fractional ownership of real property.
Utility tokens	These cryptoassets serve a specific function, such as providing access to a product or service on the platform where the tokens were created. Utility tokens are not designed to function as a medium of exchange, even though they may have monetary value. For example, a utility token might allow users access to a decentralized cloud storage platform.

Penalties

The taxpayer may incur penalties if they do not meet the obligations set out in this form. See the table below.

Type of omission or error	Penalty
Failure to file form TP-21.4.39-V	$25, to a maximum of $2,500, for each day during which the failure continues after the deadline for filing the income tax return for the year or period
Failure to provide one or more pieces of information on form TP-21.4.39-V	$100 per piece of missing information on each form that had to be filed
Wrong information provided	$100 per piece of incorrect information on each copy of form TP-21.4.39-V filed
